In Loving Memory of

Angie Robert

(February 24, 1980 - October 9, 2004)

"What goes around comes around!"

Unknown

This memorial website was created to remember our dearest Angie Robert who was born in Montreal, Quebec, Canada on February 24, 1980 and passed away on October 9, 2004. She will live forever in our memories and hearts.

Angie was a beautiful baby who got to have a wonderful childhood, with loving family and friends. As Angie grew older, she love to do what all teenagers do...HAVE FUN! When Angie grew into a woman, she was the most sincerely, caring, loving and dedicated daughter, sister, granddaughter, niece, aunt, and friend to all who knew her!

Angie at the age of 21 years, 8 months, and 6 days she gave birth to her only child. A darling precious little boy! He was her world and she was his. They loved each other so much. Angie didn't get to spend a life time with her son, but the two years, 11 months and 1 week, she had with him will be the most rewarding for him. They say you learn the most before 3 years of age. Angie had taught him the alphabet, many songs that he could sing, and directions to many places. The most special is the moral, love, respect, and values that she instilled in him. Because of Angie, her son is growing into a fine young man, who has many of his Mommy's traits, morals, and values.

Angie was the kind of girl, that everyone loved. It was hard not too. She had a personality that was truly a treasured memory for all. When you think of Angie you have to remember her with that special deep laugh she had. When reminising about Angie, (nicknamed Punkie) it is hard to be sad. The joy she gave, jumps to mind...unless you think of the dreadful night...the morning of October 9, 2004.

The morning my daughter died...How I hate that word...How I wish this never happened to her, but me instead.

Angie died in a tragic car accident. Thank goodness she passed on impact. The injuries sustained to her, in that accident would not have let her live a normal life! Angie was not drunk or on drugs, nor was speed a factor. The police suspect that an animal darted in front of the car. On small hilly country roads that is usually the verdict. How I wish I could have been there, in case she did suffer, or was in pain, or anything. All I let myself see, is Jesus holding her hand and taking her to a nicer place. Where she can rest in peace with no more suffering, and no more pain.

I pray that Angie is watching over all of us, and enjoying the wonderful life we are giving her son. My hope is that one day, we will be resurrected and have a life of eternity together. May God keep her safe and watch over her for us.

The background is a textured, mottled olive-green or taupe color. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses. The one on the left is smaller and more tightly closed. The one on the right is larger and more open, showing more of its petals. Both roses are rendered in a soft, painterly style, blending into the background.

from the deepest of our hearts...

Hi Donna,

Your new website is looking wonderful. I love the song you chose for Angie's website. I know making these websites are like a labor of love for our children and the site will never be complete, there is always the next holiday, birthday, angel date, someone's wedding, another angel joining them in heaven, etc. We continue to keep their memories alive and I think this is the best tribute we can give to our angels, the photos, lit candles, sayings, poems and most of all our own words. Thanks so much for the email you sent me about my dilemma with my daughter and your great advice about paving the way for the new addition to our family when the time comes. I have been thinking about what you said about Mike's room and his things and I know what the right thing to do is and when the time comes I will know it and will be able to go through his things. Also, thank you for sharing Angie's story with me and you are so blessed to have Jeremy with you. Samantha is due to have the son the middle of April. One of her friends just had a little girl and Sam loves being around the baby. I just hope Samantha is a good mom. Thanks again for your email and your comforting words to help me get through this. You are a special lady.

Love,

Harriet

My Sweetest Angel, Once again, as a special day arrives, it brings bittersweet memories of you. So many times, I ask GOD why? I try to find the answer, and I become numb....It is so hard to understand, WHY, when someone loves life and has so much to live for, WHY would their life be snapped away in an instant?

As we celebrate tomorrow with special love for the special people in our lives, I will do my own little celebration of a young women who I was once new from the day she born until the day she died....Yes my darling, YOU, tomorrow as our hearts go out to all the people we love, my heart simply holds you tucked away, and YES, I will remember.....

As we celebrate Terri's 25th Birthday in just 6 days, once again it is bittersweet. WHY? because you never got to celebrate your 25th, and that hurts.

Your baby is growing up fast sweetie, he is simply adorable. You would be so very proud. Your mom and dad are doing an excellent upbringing with him.....They are so strong, and YES, so unbelievable, (imagine your mom a scout leader).....Uncle Steve always said she was "the rose", the real trooper in the family!

I love you baby girl, I will think of you with so much love tomorrow.....You will be in my heart as you are every day.

February 6, 2008

The night is COLD.....it is stormy, the wind is blowing and snow is falling.....it is today, Wednesday, February 6th 2008. I am driving home from Toronto around 8:00 p.m., the roads are bad, the storm is wild....In fact, my boss suggests I stay in Toronto and the office will pay for my hotel room. It was tempting, but with no overnight clothes, and really not prepared to stay away, I thought I would persevere the storm and at least make an attempt to drive home.

Highway 400, past Major Mac, I think I am the only car on the road, except of course the odd one that races by, and I think to myself? What an idiot.....but I guess they are in a hurry.....so I drive with caution, rather take my time and get home, then end up in a ditch and not get home.....

I get to Hwy 9, this is where my challenge begins....the road is bad, it is all open fields the snow is blowing, of course there is a truck behind that is trying desperately to get inside my trunk.....the asshole, I wish I could slam my brakes on but NO, not worth it....sorry you jerk.....

Suddenly, a bird....yes a bird totally white, flies onto the roof of my car, I see it, it is flapping it's wings.....Am I crazy? A bird this time of year, but yes it is.....I think to myself, I will NOT share this anyone because they will think I am nuts.....

But the bird does not leave my thoughts, the truck behind me is not as close anymore, I begin to see a little bit better. Two thoughts cross my mind.....the cell phone rings, it's Steve.....Steve, I have to tell you something, a bird it just landed on my car, it was pure white, it flapped it's wings and then flew away....Ya Tina, right a bird, how many birds do you know land right on a car as it is moving? Not too many, I think it may have been a snowball.....No really Steve, it was a bird, I'm not kidding. The only reason I am telling you is because it's one of two things (1) Angie is with me on this wicked drive home OR (2) I am not going to make it home and she is coming to get me.....I have to tell you this Steve just in case, the bird is so real.....

I am home safe....Thank you Angie, I truly enjoyed the ride home and I'm glad I didn't get a room! Your company was much better.

I love you baby girl.

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free.

I'm following the path, God has laid you see.

*I took his hand when I heard him call,
I turned my back, and I left it all.
I could not stay another day,
To laugh, to love, to work or play
Task left undone, must stay that way,
I found that peace at the close of day.
If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it with remembered joys.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
Oh yes, these things, I too will miss.
Be not burdened with times of sorrow.
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full, I savored much,
Good friends, good times, my mother's touch.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,*

Don't lenthen it now with undo grief.

Lift up your hearts and peace to thee.

God wanted me now; he set me free!

My Sweet Darling Little Girl; My last memory of you was of the last time I saw you. We were leaving our Annual Family Reunion, Uncle Steve was driving the car, and I of course left making a spectacle out of myself.....hanging out the car window, threatening you all that I would pull a moon.....You of course were edging me on the rest was trying hard to act innocent, but truly wanted me to.....Your smile was so BIG.....your laugh was so LOUD.....I will remember that moment for ever and ever. Never thought it would be the last time that I would see you.....I miss you so much, love Auntie Tina xooxox

Life Story

every hour, every thought, every smile...

February 24, 1980

Born in Canada Montreal, Quebec on February 24, 1980.

Angie was born in Montreal, on a cold winter day! I had gone to my Grandparents 50th wedding Anniversary and I danced the night away on the 23rd. I got home late, got in bed and around 3:30 my water broke...Off to the hospital I went. She was born exactly 12:00pm, noon on Sunday!

Angie was a big surprise because they told me I was definitely having a baby boy! What a shock, when a little girl came out. At first I was disappointed, because I always wanted thirteen children, but preferable boys, as I never had any brothers.

Angie's Dad, said the doctors were wrong, that I was having a girl. Actually, he said I have a son, now I want a daughter and that's what your going to have. Imagine...I DID!

We knew from when we first met if we ever had a little girl we were going to call her Angie. We loved the song from the Rolling Stones, and we wanted that name so much for her. Angie always said if she had a little girl, she was going to call her Angel. Wouldn't that have been beautiful...Angie and Angel!

Let me tell you, when I fell in love with Angie, it was like a kind of love I never knew. She was the most precious and adoreable little girl to me.

We shared many moments and many girlie things right up until she passed away, and I will never forget one thing that I had the pleasure of sharing with her.

I LOVED ANGIE FROM THE BEGINNING AND I STILL DO...AND ALWAYS WILL...FOREVER!

February 20, 1981

Angie's first birthday was celebrated by her having a full cast on her leg. Eight adults in the kitchen and were all watching the stairs, and gabbing. Guess what happened?

Boom Bang Boom, down the stairs she went, right in her walker. Anige

August 24, 2003

Angie always had very dark black hair, except for when she was born. She had no hair for nearly three years, and when she did it was blonde. Once it turned dark brown around four years of age, it stayed that way.

Of course as Angie experienced her teenage years, she changed the colored but usually to a brown or reddish tint. At the age of 23 she decided to go blonde. A friend of Angie's worked on her hair for months to get it the right shade of blonde she wanted. Finally, it was going to be an easy job to keep her hairing looking the way she wanted, with the help of her friend. He was a hairdresser for people who were on television. She adored him, and thought he was the best. Unfortunately, not long before Angie's passing, he passed away also. Angie was so devastated, not only will she not be able to keep her hair the color and style she wanted now, but her good friend was gone. It bother Angie a lot. How she thought he was so young. (Yet he was older than her) I will always remember how gorgeous he made her feel and look.

A friend of her who is a proffessional photograph took pictures of her one day posing at a rest stop, with her beautiful hair style. She loved this pictures.

Angie was a beauty Know matter what color her hair.

October 9, 2004

*Passed away on October 9, 2004.
